Teach your grandchildren the beauty of the Rosary

October is the month of the Holy Rosary. Something to consider for the month of October might be to teach your Grandchildren about the beauty of the Rosary prayer. The advice is to start when they are young and to be patient as they are learning it. It is also advisable to teach it to them in stages so as they pick it up bit by bit. Make it a comfortable and comforting experience, not stressful and demanding. Check out our website for a link to a new resource on the Rosary just launched as part of the Amoris Laetitia Family Year - www.catholicgrandparentsassociation.org.

A discussion topic for October Ministry Meetings

In a recent interview with Florida Catholic, our founder Catherine Wiley spoke about the vocation of grandparenting. She described it as being all about sharing faith. How can we best share our faith with the next generations? We invite you to use this question as a prompt for discussion at your October ministry meetings. We would love to hear what comes up in response so do please email us info@catholicgrandparentsassociation.com. If you would like to read the full interview you can do so on Florida Catholic www.thefloridacatholic.org/faith/dose_of_faith/
